MANY LANDS REPRESENTED AT BIG RALLY

Two Thousand Are Expected For Conclave of Men Whose Slogan Is "Hold Friendship As End and Not As Means"

Delegates To District Convention At Hotel Claremont Welcomed By Mayor Bartlett of Berkeley; Debates

While one thousand Pacific Coast Lions held session at the Hotel Claremont at the annual district convention, the influx of delegates to the International Convention of Lions Clubs, to be held in Oakland, July 19 to 22, continued in a steady stream. By the time the final train arrives today it is expected by convention leaders that 2000 Lions, from the four corners of the Western Hemisphere, will be in Oakland awaiting the opening session tomorrow at the Hotel Claremont.

Canada, Cuba, the Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, Mexico, Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone will all be represented by the delegates to the "Hold Friendship as End and Not as Means" special trains bearing delegates from other countries from the north, south, east and west will arrive all during the day, with the last of the specials steaming in time for the opening of the convention.

SPECIAL TRAINS COMING TOMORROW. One special train, transporting 200 delegates from Middle Western cities, will arrive in Oakland tomorrow morning. The others will arrive during the afternoon and evening. Arrangements have been completed by the Oakland Lions Club, host to the 200 delegates, whereby each train entering the city will be met by a fleet of automobiles to transport delegates direct to their hotels.

The 200 registered delegates to the district convention were welcomed to Hotel Claremont today by Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley, who praised the organization for its civic activities. Mayor Bartlett's address followed the convention call to order, which was given at 10 o'clock this morning by President Roy R. Henderson of the Berkeley Den. President P. M. Couch of the Los Angeles club responded to the mayor.

WELCOME BY MAYOR BARTLETT. Mayor Bartlett welcomed the delegates as follows:

"It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the City of Berkeley this morning. The Lions Club of Berkeley stands today for what is best in our civic life. No meritorious movement fails to receive its earnest support, and support that is not merely passive, but active. The club put their hands together this morning by President Roy R. Henderson of the Berkeley Den. President P. M. Couch of the Los Angeles club responded to the mayor."

And so it is a great pleasure to welcome here other clubs that are rendering in their several localities the fine public service that the Berkeley Den of Lions renders. It is an inspiration to us to meet with you and exchange views. The club extends to you a hospitable welcome, and we hope that your stay here may be pleasant and that you may wish to return."

After getting down to regular business, the delegates were led in community singing by George Calfee and enjoyed a novelty number by a delegation from Stockton Den. District Governor A. H. Hart gave report of his year in office and emphasized the opportunities which Lionism has to work for civic betterment. He spoke of the good fellowship and mutual assistance help to be gained at the weekly meetings.

Divorce Refused Man Denying He Is Child's Father

Testimony Reveals That Two Were Ready To Marry Expectant Mother.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Another man stood ready to marry Adelaide M. Grazzella of 2832 Bryant street, last December, when she wedded William Sweetman, jewelry engraver, was revealed before Superior Judge Morgan today in denying Sweetman an annulment. The testimony revealed that he had left his bride one minute after the ceremony, Sweetman sought the cancellation of the marriage and denied that he was the father of a four-months-old child whom Mrs. Sweetman carried in her arms as she paced the courtroom today.

In court also was John Burke, who took the witness stand and admitted that he had been ready and anxious to marry the former Miss Grazzella and accept as his own the child she expected at that time, but that her mother would not permit it. The husband agreed to allow Dr. Albert Sweetman, because the daughter had represented that he was the father of the babe.

Cross examined on the witness stand, Sweetman admitted that he was a possibility of his being the child's father and when he expressed doubt about it, there was a dramatic scene. Sweetman told how Miss Grazzella had stopped at his home one night when a party was in progress and had told his sister-in-law of the relationship between them. On that occasion Sweetman is alleged to have admitted his friendship with the girl but to have remarked that others, too, had been friendly. When he repeated this incident on the stand, Mrs. Sweetman turned and tried aloud "He lies." The ballist curbed an incipient disturbance after which both Mrs. Sweetman and her husband agreed to allow Dr. Albert Sweetman to make a good test to determine the parentage of the infant. "I have said before and I say again that there will be no blood test taken in this court. I do not place any legal value on such a test," said Judge Morgan as he denied the annulment.

Tar Bucket and Whip Are Used In 'Moral' Drive

First Woman Punished By New Klu Klux Operating in Southern States.

DALLAS, Tex., July 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Authorities in widely separated sections of the Southern States today are taking cognizance of a series of attacks in which the victims are tarred and feathered, apparently by widely organized secret groups. The instances now number a score or more within the last three months and indicate the existence of a secret organization similar to that of the Ku Klux Klan of reconstruction days. The secrecy of the perpetrators has usually kept hid, but even the exact motive of the attacks, although they have generally seemed to be for "moral reasons."

ALLEGED BIGAMIST IS FIRST WOMAN ATTACKED. The latest attack was the first ever reported in Texas against a woman. Mrs. Leah Johnson was last night taken from a hotel parlor in Tenaha, Tex., stripped and tarred and feathered. It was alleged that the woman was a bigamist. The attack was said to have been made by men wearing white uniforms.

According to information the authorities have, Mrs. Johnson had been married three times, the first husband being dead, while the other two are still living. The third marriage, it was said, took place within the last 12 months. A husband of the woman named McKnight of Nacogdoches, Tex., by masked men at Simpson night development in border towns.

WHIP AND TAR USED ON CHURCH LEADER. At Miami, Fla., eight masked men waylaid Philip S. Irwin, white, arch-deacon of the Episcopal church and head of that church's work among South Florida negroes, on Sunday evening, took him into the woods and whipped him, then applied a coat of tar and feathers. He was returned to town and jumped from an automobile into the street. Irwin said he has been told he had been preached social equality to the negroes. At Warrenburg, Mo., Sunday night, Richard Johnson, a retired farmer, was seized and whipped by three masked men. He was warned to leave the country, he said.

PRISONERS IN PENITENTIARY START FIRES

Thousand Convicts Battle With Guards During Bold Outbreak At Pennsylvania State Prison Near Pittsburgh.

Six Frame Structures Within Walls of Institution Are Burned While Desperate Fought Rages; Six Are Slain

By United Press. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 18.—Seven convicts were missing at the roll call in the Western Penitentiary penitentiary here today after fires and wild rioting when 1000 prisoners rebelled during lunch. The fire loss is estimated at $150,000. Two firemen and five inmates were injured by gunshot wounds, while scores were slightly hurt. The riot started when two prisoners struck each other while taking their places at tables. An instant later the prison fire alarm sounded and men leaped upon tables, howling like maniacs and hurling anything within reach at the guards.

The convicts carried fire into sections where the tables had not all been ready reached. Brooms were lighted and carried by the convicts. Bedding was stacked high and fired. The riot was a roaring farce, and the firemen were battling with the prisoners. Some inmates climbed to the fifth tier of cells and began hurling bricks from the top of the inside wall on guards and firemen.

The rioters were quelled only after scores of police overhauled them and rescued the victims who were hurt. Prison officials said they believed the missing would be found hidden about the grounds. Guards fired point blank into mobs of prisoners, who came at them armed with pieces of furniture and other weapons. Scores were reported wounded. Six frame structures within the walls were destroyed by fire. The riot was started in the prison dining room by 200 convicts, just transferred here from the Eastern Penitentiary. It was reported they demanded rations of cigarettes for the men and face powder for the women.

Several prisoners rushed at the guards, they ripped furniture to bits and used table legs and chairs as bludgeons. Others grabbed knives, forks and tin plates from the tables. The air was filled with flying missiles.

GUARDS FIRED UPON CHARGING CONVICTS. The fighting spread from the dining room until the whole penitentiary was involved. Guards on the roof fired down, threatening with their rifles the convicts milling around the yards.

Other guards, armed with rifles and revolvers, opened fire on the convicts as they rushed against the gates and in an effort to capture the rioters. The riot was a general jail delivery.

Guards started one after another in rapid succession, and the riot was heavy with smoke in the midst of which the hand-to-hand fighting raged. Hundreds of convicts ran up and down the prison walls, some carrying flags and banners, through broken windows and screaming and cursing like mad men at the thousand who had gathered around the prison walls.

Hundreds of shots were fired in an effort to quiet the convicts, but this only increased their fury. The rioting continued until the guards, at the guard tower, stated that the convicts had been killed. There was no confirmation of this report.

BUILDINGS BURNED DURING OUTBREAK. The latest report of the fire damage includes the following buildings at 1:30 p. m.: The weaving shop, shoe shop, tailor shop, dining hall, and inspection and drill rooms. A financial estimate was not given. The prison contains about 1000 inmates at present.

Save doctors were rushed to the penitentiary by John J. McKelvey, city director of city charities, at 1:30 p. m. when he received an appeal for help from authorities inside the prison walls.

Huge black clouds of smoke swirled through the corridors, driving the prisoners to the windows. Convicts in the west wing, apparently not locked in their cells, ran along the halls hurling stones, bedding and inflammable material on the fire. The flames quickly spread to three lookout towers along the prison wall.

A hurry call to the city detective quarters and to the sheriff's office brought a score of detectives to the scene.

Former Senator Of Nevada Dies In Plane Crash

W. A. Keddle and Pilot John Frost Partially Incinerated in Elko Accident.

Special to THE TRIBUNE. ELKO, Nev., July 18.—W. A. Keddle, former state senator, and John A. Frost, ex-mayor, were killed and their bodies partly incinerated when Keddle's new plane fell near the landing field at Elko last night and the gas tank burst into flames.

The bodies of the men were so badly burned that movements had to be taken to identify them. The men were taking off for a flight to Lake Creek when the accident occurred. At an altitude of one hundred feet Frost essayed a turn, but the controls failed to function and the machine fell like a plummet to the ground.

Both men were pinned under the wreckage. The plane was a new model and had been assembled at Elko. Before leaving on the fatal trip it was necessary to change two spark plugs. The motor was running perfectly when the ship took the air.

Keddle had been interested in aeronautics since the war. He was a graduate of the University of Nevada and established a splendid service record during the war. He had been in the service for about a year.

Human Skeleton, Skull Crushed, Found by Boys

Boys Sliding Golf Links Near Ingleside Golf Links Make Discovery.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Young boys, while wading and playing on the Ingleside Golf Links, discovered a human skeleton. An investigation is today under way to determine if the bones are those of someone murdered three or more years ago. The boys, who made the gruesome find, are Mateo Breslin, aged 14, of 299 San Mateo avenue, and John Logan, aged 10, of 30 Niniane avenue.

The boys were fighting wasps in a canyon about 60 feet from the boulevard, and while dodging them slid down the embankment. They found the skeleton with their shoes, as they slid down the side of the canyon. The bones were found in a human skull. They carried it to City Hall and turned it over to Chief of Police Wolf.

Deputy Coroner M. W. C. Laswell said that the skull of the skeleton was dug up and drawn up against the body. The position of the bones indicated that the arms had been laid out to the sides. Later an examination showed an indentation on the right side of the skull. According to Deputy Coroner Laswell, the teeth indicate that the man was about 40 years of age.

Taxi Driver's Body Found in River SPOKANE, Wash., July 18.—A body identified as that of Mrs. L. A. taxi driver, missing since Thursday, when he answered a call shortly after midnight, was taken from the Spokane river near Otis Orchard, fifteen miles east of this city, today. ## JAPAN READY TO YIELD ON YAP, CHINA

Tokyo To Accept Harding's Invitation To Disarmament Conference; Agrees To Discuss Far Eastern Questions

By International News Service. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TOKYO, July 18.—It is reported that Japan will accept an invitation to an international conference in Washington, and an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokyo today, Japan, added the dispatch, will discuss Yap Island, the Shantung peninsula, Siberia and China, but will reserve the right to bring up the question of Manchuria.

According to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent, Viscount Matsuoka will be one of the delegates from Japan. The Japanese minister of marine will also be attending the conference. Japan will not restrict naval competition.

The Pacific conference is causing great excitement in Japan. It is expected that Japan will have a strong voice in the conference. The Japanese government is expected to have a strong voice in the conference.

STIMONS SECURED BY HUSBAND, SEIZED. Saturday morning Mrs. Alexander visited her attorney and asked that action for divorce be brought and based on Friday night's incident. On her way out of the lawyer's office she was met by a deputy sheriff, who served her with a summons in an action started by her husband on July 17. Mrs. Alexander charges that her husband has been cruel and inhuman to her, and that she is unable to live with him.

INCLUSION OF CHINA EXPECTED IN TOKYO. TOKYO, July 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Japan, it is asserted, heartily welcomes the inclusion of China in the proposed disarmament conference in Washington, and Chinese and Siberian problems are expected to form important topics for discussion.

The conference is declared to offer an excellent opportunity for the powers to reach unanimous decision on Far Eastern questions. Many leaders of Japanese thought are of the opinion that the inclusion of China in the conference will give Japan an opportunity to make known to the world her desires and reach the understanding with the United States, which is regarded as so vital to Japan's future.

Despite the reservation contained in Japan's reply to President Harding's invitation, the answer is expected to be a virtual acceptance. It is forecast that when discussed at the conference, Japan will prepare a list of questions she deems essential for a thorough discussion. It is expected that Japan will be roughly grouped under the headings of population for food and raw materials, the last of which, it is contended, should be freely available to Japan, including cotton from the United States and India.

It is generally held that the question of Japanese emigration to the Americas here shows that there is a conflict in Japan over the course the nation should pursue. The liberal elements are contending for entrance into the Far East, by entering will lose what she has gained in the Far East as a result of her participation in two wars.

WASHINGTON WAITS REPLY FROM JAPAN. By A. L. BRADFORD. WASHINGTON, July 18.—The state department today is awaiting word from Tokyo on its reply to the Japanese query concerning the scope of the joint disarmament conference.

LONDON GEARS UP. LONDON, July 18.—The government's action in barring the London Times from all special news facilities in retaliation for its bitter attack upon Maurice Curzon, the foreign secretary, was defended by Premier Lloyd George upon the floor of the house of commons today.

The premier said that this action had been taken "in view of the peculiarly offensive and mischievous nature of the attack." The attack, added the premier, fell below the normal standards of British journalism and "might have imperilled the delicate negotiations upon which the foreign secretary is now engaged."

The normal channels of official news are still available to the London Times, he said.

IRISH PEACE NEGOTIATION IS RESUMED

General Smuts Consulted By Lloyd George Before Renewal of Conference; Self-Determination Is Asked

Sinn Fein Leader Declared To Be Opposed To Meeting Head of Ulster; Factions Are Preparing Programs

By International News Service. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, July 18.—Serious obstacles have been encountered in the peace negotiations, according to reports in circulation tonight after Lloyd George had spent the afternoon in conference with Lamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," and with Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster.

Lloyd George conferred separately with each leader. When Craig left No. 10 Downing street, the premier's official residence, he announced that all the members of the Ulster mission are returning to Belfast tonight.

At the same time an official statement was issued from Downing street that President de Valera will resume his conversations with Lloyd George Thursday.

LONDON, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Jan C. Smuts, the South African premier, appeared today as a factor in the Irish negotiations.

Lloyd George, the prime minister, had been in official residence in Downing street since the morning when Viscount Fitzalan, the lord lieutenant of Ireland, called and had long talks with the premier, during which they were joined by General Smuts, the conference continuing more than an hour.

General Smuts had not figured prominently in the conversations which have been going on at Downing street since the truce went into effect. His last known active participation in the negotiations having been on the occasion of his return to Dublin the week before last, when he presented the results of his visit to Lloyd George and King George.

By NEWTON C. PARKE, International News Service Staff Correspondent. LONDON, July 18.—The third session of the peace negotiations between Premier Lloyd George and Lamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," took place at 10 Downing street late this afternoon. It was officially announced that Premier Lloyd George would meet Sir James Craig, head of the Ulster government, this evening, if the conference between the premier and de Valera was satisfactory. The premier and General Smuts, who had conferred on Ireland throughout Sunday afternoon.

Premier Lloyd George, who had been conferring at his country estate at Chequers over the week-end, returned to London during the morning. He was expected to appear in the House of Commons later in the day, but it was regarded as unlikely that he would give any definite statement to make regarding Ireland.

A brief statement given out by the Sinn Fein leader regarding the policy he is following here was in reply to a question asked by a member of the House of Commons. He said that he would not meet Sir James Craig, who was expected to appear in the House of Commons later in the day, but it was regarded as unlikely that he would give any definite statement to make regarding Ireland.

"I have made no demand but the one I am entitled to make—that of self-determination for the Irish nation," said de Valera.

Great secrecy shrouded the informal conferences that were carried on during the week-end by the Irish Unionists, the Republicans and Government officials. These were all held in the hope of reaching details of the course each action will pursue during the next few days.

The treasury department has been ordered to prepare reports for Premier Lloyd George's hearing upon certain financial aspects of the proposed Irish settlement.

BOOZE KILLS BIG SOLDIER; POLICE HUNTING WOMAN

Surviving Friends Claim They Were Robbed After Falling Asleep.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The mysterious death early this morning of James B. Dell, 22 years old, and one of the heaviest soldiers in Uncle Sam's Army, and the robbery of his two friends in a Sixth-street lodging house, is being investigated by Coroner T. E. Leary and a detail of upper office detectives. The police are looking for a woman and a male companion who are believed to have fled the apartment after the former had plied the three men with liquor.

BOOZE PARTY. The death of Dell was the culmination of a booze party. He was attacked by two men who were on a leave of absence. Last night he was found in a room at 341 Sixth street and telephoned to his friend Philip Kennedy, a soldier attached to the base hospital at Palo Alto, and Daniel Hartnett, recently discharged from the army, inviting them to the Sixth-street room, and saying he had some money. On their arrival they met a woman there and all four partook of a quart bottle of whiskey, after which they fell asleep.

Kennedy told the police that he was found in the room going through his coat pockets. He yelled and the man and woman left, taking his coat and money. He shouted for the police as the thieves reached the street, but was unable to attract any one's attention. On awakening Hartnett, it was found his clothing also had been stolen and $47, all the money he had in the world.

STOMACH TO BE ANALYZED. When the two sought to destroy Dell it was found that he was dead. Dell weighed 225 pounds. He was one of the best known soldiers about the bay. An autopsy performed by Dr. John Clark disclosed that his heart was in good condition and the stomach was sent to the chemist for analysis.

Reyes, director of the bureau of commerce and industry of the Philippine islands, asserted in an address here today that the economic progress of the islands in the last twenty years had been unprecedented. He was speaking at the International Exposition of rubber products for the Philippines.

Mr. Reyes also pointed out the opportunities for the investment of foreign capital in developing the resources of the islands. He gave credit to the administration of the United States government in the Philippines.

Greeks Encircling Turk Nationalists

ATHENS, July 18.—The Greeks are carrying out successfully a great encircling movement against the Turkish Nationalists on the Anatolian battlefield. Official announcement today that the Greeks have occupied the important railway city of Kütahya received here with great rejoicing.

row morning at 10 o'clock at the Hotel Oakland. International President Dr. C. C. Reid, of Denver, Colo., has appointed President Phil Stitt, Vice President B. Frank Walker and Secretary Gerald B. Wallace on three of the most important committees of the organization.

President Stitt has been a member of the Ceremonials committee, of which W. A. Royston of Pittsburgh, Penn., is chairman. Vice-President Walker has been placed on the Club Activities committee, of which I. S. Keeping of Denver is chairman. Secretary Wallace has been honored with the appointment as chairman of the Grievance committee.

All of these committees will have a large share in directing the progress of the convention and in shaping the policies of the Lions clubs for the coming year. The rapid progress which has been made by the Stockton Den of Lions, since its organization last August, has attracted widespread attention in communities all over the United States, where there are other Lions clubs.

A large percentage of the membership of the Stockton lions club is represented at the District convention at Berkeley today and Oakland during the remainder of the week.

Letter From Former President To Lloyd George Placed in Congressional Record.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A letter from former President Wilson to Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, declaring that the United States could not consider proposals to cancel or extend Great Britain's indebtedness to this nation, was placed in the Congressional Record today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader.

Wilson's letter, dated in October, 1920, was submitted to the Senate foreign relations committee by former Secretary Houston. It said that suggestions looking to the cancellation or extension were made to the then President in Paris. The communication apparently was the reply to the British premier's letter, made public last week in the Senate finance committee hearings.

Perfect Blue-White Diamonds

It is the highest type of recommendation for the integrity and experience of a jewelry store that the diamonds it sells are recognized everywhere they are seen as "perfect blue-white diamonds." That is the sort of recommendation given our store daily by those who have bought diamonds of us.

Despite the fact that there are so many opportunities for error with the great number of imperfect, off-color stones on the market, we pride ourselves on carrying only perfect blue-white diamonds, though the sizes may vary from a $50 stone to one costing $1000. Remember

CALIFORNIA MAY HAVE FOUR NEW HOUSE MEMBERS

Plan To Increase Representatives From 435 to 460 Likely To Pass.

If the compromise apportionment plans of the House census committee are accepted by Congress, California will have four new members to the lower house at Washington. The plan now considered is to increase the House membership from 435 to 460, a figure agreed upon after an argument of months' duration.

Under this proposal but two States, Missouri and Maine, will lose in representation and the bulk of the opposition to the plan to cut down the membership will be removed. To arrange so that no States would lose it would be necessary to increase the membership to 485. While some of the members were arguing for this large figure others have been seeking a decrease to 400. A considerable element is now on record as wishing to fix the maximum membership at 460.

If the apportionment plans are put through at this session California may consider them at the special session of the legislature when the outlines of the new districts may be drawn and when State reapportionment is to be considered. The Congressional reapportionment will take effect after March 4, 1923.

SEX CONTROL OF CHILD BEFORE BIRTH POSSIBLE

PARIS, July 18.—(By Universal Service.)—Sex control is an established fact, according to Prof. Coue of Nancy, called the world's foremost exponent of auto-suggestion. "Not only can parents before birth determine the sex of their children, but they can also influence his future life and career by endowing him with the qualities they would most wish him to have," Dr. Coue asserted.

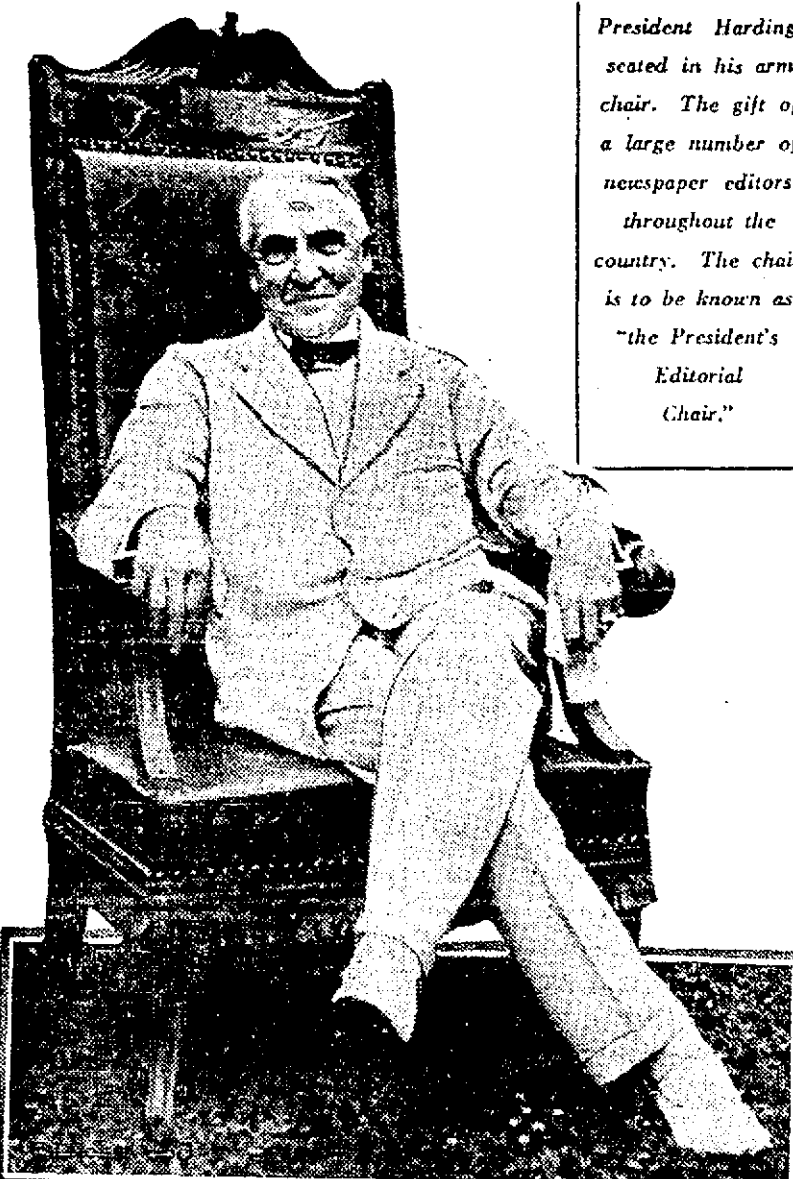

"If a mother wants a boy baby she must bend her will to that effect, repeating with absolute confidence thirty or forty times a day, 'My child will be a boy.'"

"If she intends him to be a great painter, for instance, she will insist on this fact to herself. She will visit art galleries and surround herself with pictures of great artists. She will think beautiful things. If she wants him to be an author she will read good books and all ways on opening or closing one tell herself, 'My son will one day write like that.' If he is to be an architect she will accustom her mind to order and perspective, paying attention to mechanical accuracy in everything she does. The same method of mind she will follow if she wishes to be the mother of a banker or financier, but, in addition, she will devote an hour daily to the minute study of mathematics."

"The country which first establishes pre-determination schools for its mothers," he said, "will have made an enormous stride forward and in a generation or two will have become the most powerful in the world."

U. S. BEGINS PROBE OF MAIL PILOT SMITH'S DEATH

Intimation Made That Plane Was Not Tested Before Long Flight Ordered.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Two inquiries were set on foot today in connection with the tragic accident at the Marina Saturday, resulting in the death of Pilot Howard Smith of the United States Air Mail service. Postoffice Inspector S. H. Morse, having had the matter formally brought to his attention, detailed Inspector W. T. Maders to make a thorough investigation.

Maders spent the morning on the Marina interrogating witnesses furnished by the police and company's deputies. The inquiry by the inspector is automatic, he moving jurisdiction over all branches of the postoffice and his report being independent of any others. The investigation was begun by a board called together by Major G. A. Tomlinson of Reno, an official of the Air Mail service.

Major Tomlinson reached here today and immediately set at work to probe the cause of the sudden falling of the big airplane and the resulting fire and burning to death of the flyer. The board of inquiry is composed of Major Tomlinson, as chairman; Inspector Maders and an officer detailed by Major H. H. Arnold, aviation officer.

One of the facts upon which the investigation board will seek light, is the report that the heavy mail plane only arrived here from Reno at 3:30 p. m. on Saturday and was allowed to make the return trip less than an hour later. Whether proper time was allowed for inspection and testing of the ship, one of the matters that will carefully be gone into. The plane was built to carry 400 pounds of gasoline and 400 pounds of mail and was loaded to capacity for the journey.

BUREAU FINDS WORK FOR 22,000

More than 22,000 men were found positions through the Oakland office of the Public Employment Bureau of the State of California during the past year, according to the annual report of John P. McLaughlin, State Labor Commissioner, which was filed today.

The total number of positions filled by the employment service throughout the State was 150,265, the figures by district offices being as follows: Los Angeles, 76,058; San Francisco, 42,112; Oakland, 22,000; Fresno, 13,461; Sacramento, 9,818; Stockton, 8,678; Marysville, 3,322; Chico, 3,277, and San Jose, 878.

The number of positions filled during the fiscal year decreased in every case from the number filled during the fiscal year 1919-20, the average decrease for the State being 25 per cent. The per cent decrease in Oakland was 28 per cent. Other cities decreased as follows: Stockton, 10 per cent; Los Angeles, 18 per cent; San Jose, 20 per cent; Marysville, 30 per cent; Fresno, 32 per cent; Sacramento, 33 per cent; Chico, 37 per cent; and San Francisco, 57 per cent.

British Reward U. S. Captain For 'Kindness'

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A note was received at the state department from the British government today transmitting a silver cup awarded by the British government to Captain Omar J. Humphrey, of Seattle, Wash., formerly of the shipping boat vessel West Modus.

Captain Humphrey was awarded the cup for "humanity and kindness" in saving 600 passengers of the British steamship Lusitania, which was wrecked on the coast of Ireland, the Great North Sea Island.

The six hundred passengers were transferred to the West Modus without loss.

Campfire's Spread Costs Two Men $100

VISALIA, Cal., July 18 (by Associated Press).—Help prevent forest fires is not only a slogan, but a warning, according to the ruling of U. S. Commissioner Fry at Giant Forest. Two men, arraigned before him on the charge of failing to extinguish their camp fire, causing the disastrous recent fire in the Sequoia National park, were fined $50 each.

Fire Drives Rattlers From Foothills

CHICO, Cal., July 18 (by United Press).—Rattlesnakes, said to have been driven from the foothills by the recent forest fires, are reported in numbers in the vicinity of Chico, Cal. Several rattlesnakes have been killed recently, among them one with 14 rattles, brought in by Carl Billups.

Cowboy Finds Snake in Well, Lassos Him

OAKDALE, July 18.—Al Turner, cowboy, lassoed an alive rattlesnake. He goes down a deep well and does it. Formerly he gained considerable fame by lassoing wild steers and darting coyotes on the hills around Copperopolis.

He was hired by L. H. Watson the other day to go down a dry well on the Watson ranch near Knights Ferry and dig it deeper. It is one of those old-fashioned dug wells.

Nearing the bottom by means of a rickety ladder, he was startled by a rattling sound he knew only too well. Hastily he came up.

"Rattlers down there," he announced, "Gimme a rope."

Down he went again with his lasso. After while he came up with a big rattlesnake writhing in the tightly-drawn noose. Then he went back and lassoed its mate.

First of Co-operative Farmer Markets Opened

The local movement for direct "producer-to-consumer" marketing of farm produce today assumed three separate and distinct phases. It was marked by the opening of a farmers' cooperative market at Nineteenth street and Telegraph avenue, the incorporation of the Farm Bureau Exchange of Alameda County and announcement that another farmers' cooperative market is to be opened on Wednesday at Twelfth and Oak streets.

The first market opened at 8 a. m. with a sale of 400 lbs. boxes of potatoes, about 200 sacks of potatoes and a smaller number of boxes of plums. The potatoes were sold out by noon, the small shipment of plums was gone before the morning was half over, but the potatoes were moving slowly. At noon arrangements were being made for more shipments of fruit.

This market is operated by W. J. Mooney, a Los Gatos rancher, who intends to market his own apples and plums and by means of it, will extend his facilities to other farmers with other lines of produce and promises them that he will give a larger return for the produce than is paid by canners or wholesale produce dealers and that he will sell to the consumer at a figure considerably less than prevailing retail prices.

The incorporation of the Farm Bureau Exchange as a non-profit co-operative organization is another local development in the movement for agricultural produce which will work on different lines. This organization will be similar to farm bureau exchanges now in operation in other parts of the state and will market and propose to handle the marketing of agricultural produce and later to function as a co-operative purchasing organization to supply the general needs of its farmer members.

According to the sentiment expressed at committee meetings when plans for the Farm Bureau Exchange were formulated, this organization does not plan to operate a retail market in any large city, but will operate more on the plan of the great specialized co-operative marketing exchanges of the state like the Prune and Apple Growers, the Citrus Growers Exchange, the Raisin Growers and others, instead of being limited to one commodity and being state-wide in scope, it will limit its territory to this county and will handle all lines of produce grown in this county.

The local Farm Bureau Exchange movement started at a meeting of the directors of the Alameda County Farm Bureau in Livermore, July 9,

Dozen Arctic Rescues by Bear Include Local Men

Bearing stories of a dozen rescues from cold and starvation and carrying survivors of several ill-starred expeditions that have set out from this port for the north, the coast guard cutter Bear has put in Nome, according to word that has come from the Alaskan city today.

The Bear rescued Roald Amundsen's expedition ship Maude from its precarious position in the ice off Cape Serdze, Siberia. She saved the crew of the American schooner Gertrude and took off St. Lawrence Island two men who had been marooned there following the wreck of the small boat in which they were adrift. In addition she brought back to civilization a number of the members of the crew of the schooner Casco, which put out of Oakland with a Siberian expedition last year.

STEVENSON'S OLD CRAFT.

The Casco is the same old craft in which Robert Louis Stevenson sailed to the South Seas. She is now in the ice at the mouth of the Amaguma river, near North Cape, Siberia.

Dr. F. L. Branning and Del Bishop are the two who were taken from the island, where they had spent an entire winter. Leo R. Harris, member of a Siberian expedition, arrived here on the Casco, and John Norberg, Carl Lofdah, Julius Silverman, G. F. Hauser and Ernest Huhn, all of Oakland and Alameda are others brought from the ice fields on the Bear.

News that the Amundsen ship Maude has been taken to 100 miles south of St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea came with the arrival of the cutter. The explorer's craft is now proceeding under sail toward Dutch Harbor. Arrangements have been made for the coast guard cutter Aulaga to tow

House Places Crude and Fuel Oil on Free List

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Treadway amendment to the Fordney tariff bill, placing oil on the free list, was adopted by the House today after a vote of 196 to 85.

By A. O. HAYWARD, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Harding today became the first President to sign a bill placing oil on the free list. The House this afternoon when Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee presented a letter on the question from the President.

The President in his letter opposed a tariff on oil unless there is included in the bill a provision which would give the chief executive bargaining power with other nations to guard against retaliatory measures. The President's letter, dated June 30, was as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Fordney: I understand that your committee is endeavoring to decide whether to include a protective duty on crude oil in the tariff bill now before the House. I am pressing the importance of this question to you, because it is one of the most important of the oil resources in many foreign lands. This case has been a long one, and it is of great concern to our country over the supply of crude oil to which we are turned for our domestic consumption. In meeting the needs of our country, our merchant marine."

To levy a protective tariff on crude petroleum now would be at variance with all that has been done to safeguard our future interests in the oil resources of the world."

and most cordially believe in its proper consideration.

"Would it not be practicable to provide for such protection in some bargaining provision which may be placed in the hands of the executive that we may guard against a levying of duties against us or the imposition by other nations of the export tariffs which are designed to hinder the facilitation of trade which is essential to our welfare?"

In the matter of crude oil and in the case of the tariff bill, which we talk, our position will be stronger if the tariff levy is omitted and authority is given the executive to impose a duty in appropriately stated circumstances. I hope your committee will find it consistent to give consideration to these suggestions."

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The actual work of revising the federal tax laws, so long demanded by business interests and the country, was started by the House ways and means committee today.

Chairman Fordney announced he had requested the treasury department to present all information in its files which would aid in the tax revision.

Joseph S. McCoy, government attorney who has a remarkable feat of estimating within a few hundred thousand just how much a three-billion dollar tax will yield, is at work "guessing" what the return to the government under the various tax proposals will be.

Starting of the work on revenue revision before the tariff bill has been passed means, Fordney said, that the tax changes will be speeded up. Indications now are that the Senate will shunt the tariff bill and wait for the revenue measure.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE then you see it.

BANK AND REALTY FIRM LOSE FIGHT FOR CUT IN TAXES

Board Sustains County Assessor's Assessment Despite Charges.

Following an attack by attorneys on the assessments levied by County Assessor L. Harrison Clay on the property of the First Savings Bank at Sixteenth street and San Pablo avenue, and that of the Plaza Realty Company, adjoining the bank property and running through from San Pablo avenue to Sixteenth street, the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, today sustained Clay's assessment and denied the application for reduction.

This was the only protest made to the board of equalization from Clay's assessments. Today was the last day on which the board could hear such a protest.

Attorneys Alexander, Abbott and Beardsley and Ben F. Wolner represented the protesting property owners, who included P. E. Bowles, banker.

Beardsley and Wolner addressed the board, claiming their clients' properties are assessed from 20 to 30 per cent higher than surrounding properties. They asked a reduction of 20 per cent on both pieces.

ASSESSMENT FIGURES.

The First Savings bank property is assessed at $31,500 and the Plaza Realty company property at $184,550.

Beardsley claimed that the property of the Broadway Realty company at Fifteenth and Broadway, and the Russell property at Sixteenth and Telegraph, are each worth more than the Plaza Realty company property, but are assessed for less.

Wolner said he had been protesting an adjustment this year when he protested last year but that his clients are worse off now than before.

Assessor Clay said that he had produced figures to show that the surrounding property had been increased on the assessment rolls by from $10,000 to $30,000, while that of each piece now protested had been lowered by $10,000.

Assessor Clay said neither the attorneys nor their clients had been near him to consult about an adjustment, though a city shipment of produce any time since January 1.

Chairman W. J. Hamilton and Supervisor J. P. Mullins called attention to the fact that the protesting owners admitted they were not over-assessed and said it seemed some of the other property should be raised somewhat, but that it was impossible for the board to go into such a complicated matter at the last moment. They said the protesting owners should have produced their maps and made their protests earlier.

James J. McGee, vice-president of the Real Estate Dealers' Association, told the board the high class business property in Oakland is made to bear the brunt of assessments in raising money for the county and said the county property should be raised in proportion.

Assessor Clay said county property had been raised this year, but not as much as city property because it had not increased in value as much. Clay said the East Bay Water Company paid $100 a front foot for its property on Sixteenth street and another sale was made there for $1200 a front foot. He declared the assessments in question are just ones.

HAYWARD BOND SALE.

Bonds voted by the Hayward school district in the sum of $180,000, for the construction of new school buildings, will be sold by the supervisor Monday morning, August 2, to the highest bidder, according to a resolution adopted at today's meeting. The election was held July 15, when more than a two-thirds vote was secured for the expenditure. The bonds bear six per cent interest and run for varying periods up to forty years.

Dr. Emma Paulsmier was appointed district dentist. His detention home in place of Dr. O. R. Jungerman, resigned.

Miss Florence Nickerson was appointed attendant for the Alameda branch of the county library in place of Miss Irene Nickerson, to take effect July 20.

Miss Mary Barnaby, county librarian, reported the collection of 12,205 volumes during June at the various branches. Because of a contagious disease, the branch at Alameda was closed during a part of June, as was also the Deane branch for a short time because of smallpox. The annual state convention of librarians was held at Tahoe June 11 to 15, according to the report.

The board adopted a resolution funding to the city of Berkeley $3159 collected by the county as taxes in Ocean View Road district since that district was annexed to Berkeley January 5 last.

County Treasurer F. W. Ross reported there was $2,248,700.34 cash in the possession of the county July 1, as compared with $3,205,101.50 on June 1.

J. J. Hogarty, county livestock inspector, reported the inspection, during June, of 1678 cattle, 482 horses, 118 sheep, 4 dogs and 234 hogs. Of these, four cattle were condemned on account of tuberculosis.

RAID ON HOTEL IN S. F. NETS $10,000 BOOZE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The 20th Hotel, Forty-ninth and Balboa streets, was raided last night by John Exelios, federal prohibition agent, and a squad of prohibition agents, W. W. Hopkins, the proprietor of the place, was taken into custody, and it is said that more than $10,000 worth of champagne, whisky, beer and other liquor was confiscated.

The agents with Exelios in the raid were D. W. Rhinckel, C. H. Wheeler, A. R. Shurtliff, J. P. Doyle and A. Krumpholtz.

According to Exelios, he had no difficulty in purchasing a drink at the hotel. The liquor was carried away in a truck by the prohibition agents after the raid.

Head of 'Goodfellow' Lodge Is Arrested

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 18.—H. K. Hansen, secretary of the national organization of Goodfellows in America, was arrested today on a charge of using the mails to defraud. It is charged that Hansen secured $62,000 in 25-cent membership fees from 250,000 persons in all parts of the United States.

Uncle Wiggly's Stories

by Howard R. Garber

You're stuck fast!

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE CHOCOLATE CANDY.

Lulu Wiggles, the duck girl, followed the front steps of Uncle Wiggly's hollow one morning and called to the bunny rabbit.

"Everything is all ready now, Uncle Wiggly. Come on to the woods with us and have fun."

Mr. Longears twinkled his tail, silk, rheumatism crutch—excuse me, I mean his nose—and asked:

"What do you mean, Lulu—everything ready to go to the woods? Do you mean the Fox is there ready to nibble my ears?"

"Oh no; nothing like that," quacked Lulu, making a funny face with her yellow bill. "We are going to have a candy party in the woods and we thought you'd like to come."

Uncle Wiggly, and down off the porch he jumped, making such a jolly racket that Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy cried: "Where are you going, you funny bunny rabbit?"

"Off to the woods after candy," said Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, you are funnier than ever!" exclaimed the laughing muskrat lady housekeeper. "Candy doesn't grow in the woods."

"No," agreed Lulu. "It doesn't. Nurse Jane. But wood grows in the woods, and with wood we are going to make a fire and boil some sugar, molasses and chocolate together in a kettle and then we are going to make candy."

"Oh, that's all right," said Nurse Jane. "But be careful not to burn your whiskers, Wiggly."

Uncle Wiggly said he'd be careful, so away he hopped with Lulu, and soon they had reached a clump of trees where many of the animal boys and girls were gathered.

There were Sammie and Susie Littlefield, the rabbits; Johnnie and Billie, the squirrels; Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, and Nannie and Billie Wagtail, the goats.

"Hurry for Uncle Wiggly!" barked Jackie, as the rabbit gentleman hopped along.

"I'm glad to see you all," spoke Mr. Longears. "And now what about this candy?" and he looked back at Nurse Jane—that is if you are really going to make any."

"Of course we are!" quacked Lulu, another girl duck. "Start the fire, Billie Wagtail, and I'll put the kettle on."

"I'll put in sugar," said Susie the rabbit.

"I'll put in chocolate," chattered Johnnie the squirrel.

"I brought molasses and I'll put that in," said Nannie, the goat girl.

Soon the fire was merrily blazing under the kettle, and the animal children put the different sweet things they had brought. The candy began to bubble and boil, and a most lovely smell came from the kettle.

Uncle Wiggly knew little about candy making, so he helped the animal boys and girls, and in a little while the chocolate fudge, as it was called, was ready to be poured out into lurch bowls to cool.

"And when it's cool we'll eat it!" cried Baby Bunty, the lively little rabbit girl. "But now let's have a game of tag. You're it, Uncle Wiggly!" and she landed him with a sharp stick for a knife, and gave each boy and girl a share, spreading the fudge out on a flat stump for a table.

Some of the children began eating their candy, but others found it still too warm, and laid their pieces on stumps or logs to cool. Then all of a sudden something happened. Out of the bushes jumped the bad old Fuzzy Fox.

"Oh ho!" howled the fox. "I'm just in time to nibble Uncle Wiggly's ears and also get some candy. Let me see, whose candy shall I take?" He looked hungrily around at the children, some of whom were nibbling the chocolate fudge. Just then Baby Bunty, who had hepped away to tag a butterfly, came running back, and the Fox howled:

"I'll take Baby Bunty's candy, and then I'll nibble Uncle Wiggly's ears."

"No! No! You can't take my candy!" said Bunty.

"Why not?" barked the Fox.

"Cause you're sitting on it now on that stump!" laughed Baby Bunty. "and you're stuck fast and you can't get up to nibble Uncle Wiggly's ears or get candy from anybody else. You're stuck fast on my chocolate fudge! Ha! Ha! Ha!"

And, surely enough, the Fox was. He had sat down on Baby Bunty's candy, and when he tried to get up he couldn't.

Then away ran Uncle Wiggly and all the animal children, safe and sound, and each one gave Baby Bunty a bit of candy to make up for her that the Fox sat on. So after all, the bunny's ears weren't nibbled. And if the toy balloon doesn't bump the milk pitcher on the nose and make it stand on its head, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the rose bush.

MONDAY, JULY 18

The Constitution escaped from the British fleet with this day in 1812 and a lot of folks asked what kedging was. Let's see, what is kedging? Rose Hartwick Thorpe, an unassuming girl, was born in 1850 and lived to startle the world and many a school entertainment with her immortal lines, "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight." Tom L. THE LODGE MEETS.
The first thing to remember in hot weather, says one of those advice columns, is not to get excited. Now the plan adopted by members of the Unaffiliated Lodge, Diminishing Order of Fedetrarians, is to remain calm, terribly calm, to go home and act snappish toward members of the family. In this manner we believe we can do our part toward maintaining a temperature. A normal man, the lodge believes, may obtain enough pleasure in acting snappish in hot weather to make up for the inconvenience. As a man on the Boston Transcript said: "He it over so grumble there is no place like home." After light refreshments in the banquet hall the lodge adjourned until next week.

HEALTH.
Now I reckon that health is the richest possession that ever a mortal can own. With health in his kingdom, life's burdens are little and he can give battle alone; He can rise to his day. Let it bring what it may, With only one thought in his mind, With never a doubt, That his strength will hold out, And never a fear left behind.

Give health to a man and the ones he loves best, and he will go fit to the task. He'll stand to the brunt and the heat of the strife and little of mercy he'll ask; The odds may be great, But up-standing and straight, He'll meet them and fight to the end, And 'neath gray skies or blue, He will see the day through, And take what the fortunes may send.

But let him have riches in silver and gold, and let the world bow to his will, And barren his days are of pleasure and charm if he or a loved one is ill; Then heavy of heart, He will pay his poor part, And his gold will not cause him to smile, For of all the world's wealth, The best treasure is health, And without it there's nothing worth while.

USE CREAMS.

Sometimes a question arises among women as to whether it is wise to use some cream for the complexion. There are, of course, many arguments both for and against its use. However, no young woman should start applying creams unless some defect in her skin has been pointed out by a physician. In windy weather, when the face is to be exposed to intense cold, it is well to apply a little protective cream before going outdoors, otherwise if the skin is extremely fine it may become chapped.

Young people should never make a practice of smearing their faces with the various face creams that are so often recommended as beautifiers. If they are healthy their well-being will be reflected in the fine, clear texture of their skin.

As women grow older and the lines of the supple youth, creams may be applied with good effect, as they help to nourish the skin. But cream should never be kept on during the night unless there is a particular reason for so doing.

Cream closes the tiny gland openings, and thus prevents the proper functioning of the skin. Through the tiny pores the perspiration passes, and in this way the waste products are carried off. If, on the other hand, the pores are sealed by the steady application of cream, great harm may come to the complexion as well as to the general health.

The following formula makes an excellent cream that will protect the face well against the onslaughts of blistering winds which often come in spring:

AN EXCELLENT COLD CREAM.
White wax ..... 20 grams
Cocoa butter ..... 20 grams
Oil of sweet almonds ..... 20 grams
Essence of rose ..... 8 drops
Orange flower water ..... 8 grams
Glycerine ..... 8 grams
A few drops of perfume as desired.

Melt the wax and cocoa butter. Then add the oil of sweet almonds. Gradually add the orange flower water, glycerine and oil of rose. Before going outdoors apply a very thin coating of this cream to your face. Remember to rub the cream well into your skin, then, before you go out, take a soft cloth and remove all the superfluous cream. Some women add the veriest dusting of powder, as they think it gives a softer texture to the skin. Be sure, however, upon your return to remove every vestige of the cream.

Another protective cream may be compounded from the following:

CAMPORATED COLD CREAM.
Oil of sweet almonds ..... 8 fluid ounces
White wax ..... 1 ounce
Spermaceti ..... 1 ounce
Glycerine ..... 1 ounce
Rosewater ..... 5 fluid ounces
Borax (in fine powder) ..... 4 drams
Oil of rose ..... 10 drops

Melt the spermaceti and the wax. Next add the oil of sweet almonds. The camphor has been dissolved by very gentle heat. Gradually add the rosewater, in which you have previously dissolved the borax. As you mix all these ingredients together, beat constantly with a wooden spatula until the mixture is cold. At this stage add the oil of rose and put in stone jars until you desire to use it.

The best way to apply cream is to use a little piece of absorbent, sterilized cotton or a bit of soft, old linen.

The COUNTRY of UPSIDE DOWN

By Jack Burroughs

Chapter 30.
A Remarkable Cure.

WHILE Alex and Reddy Quackenback and their friends were visiting at the home of Doctor Black in company with Professor Alfred Bell, the man with the broken jaw wrote the following note on a piece of paper, which he later handed to Alex.

"While we are visiting with this charming family, I thought of something I hope you'll not forget, and that is your original intention to take me to the Upside Down Hospital to have my broken jaw repaired."

When Alex had read the message he turned it over to Reddy Quackenback, who said:

"We must take action on this at once. When we are in town in black and white it's a different matter from mere word of book utterances."

He put it to a quacking vote and it was decided to make one more effort to find the furniture store where the resolution was tabled.

But the search turned out to be more than a mere matter of minutes or hours. It dragged along for several days and it was not, in fact, until some two weeks later that they found the place, not more than a few blocks distant from the hospital.

Without further loss of time they took the report from the table, adopted it and went to the Upside Down Hospital.

But just as they arrived at the front entrance the man with the broken jaw sneezed so hard his handkerchief flew off.

To the surprise of all, the man with the broken jaw, or as it turned out, the man whose jaw had been broken, began talking.

"My broken jaw is cured!" he exclaimed. "We lost some much time with our resolutions and tables and quacking votes, and forgetful professors, and beany cap circuses and things, that my jaw just naturally got well all by itself."

Everyone congratulated him upon his remarkable recovery, after which he turned his back to the entrance.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World!

There's a lot of talk going on about the Blue Laws. Now I'm not here to discuss whether a law should be blue yellow or olive green. Personally, I care very little about the color of the law. But I would like to make a few remarks on the spirit which is animating our discussions of these proposed blue laws, for I think it's hitting against that money which we cherish above all other principles.

There's something much worse for folks than political agitation, and that is moral agitation. I don't mind how the other fellow thinks I am, but I become irritated when he announces to the world how good he is. That's exactly what a contemplation of the Blue Laws is doing to a lot of people. They are setting up regular factories and wearing all the advance models themselves.

If we are so good, let's have 'em just like we have game laws or traffic laws or tax laws. But let's not get any more self-righteous over the regulation of the Sabbath than we are over the protection of salmon. Neither bit of legislation insures us a free pass into heaven. We still have to work our way.

The evils of sitting in judgment

I REALLY BELIEVE MOST OF OUR YOUNGSTERS ARE GROWN UP COMES FROM NOT KNOWING HOW TO PLAY, AND THAT MISDIRECTED ENERGY HAS GOTTEN SOME OF US INTO A WOBBLY PATH FOLLOWING.

Dear Pat Geraldine: I may call you that, may I not? I feel so toward you and your page anyway, and very glad to know you through your pages. I'm only sorry that it is impossible to meet you nearer. Though, goodness knows, one is thankful for the little bit of you that we Pat get.

Many, many times I have wished to write you and thank you and some of your correspondents for the help I have gleaned from the Geraldine column.

I especially wish to thank Kate Jensen for her great kindness and broad loving heart, also Miss Ralph Snyder, "A Man and a Word," and "The Girl Who Wasn't." They were all so big and fine and it makes one proud to have them in this little place.

Dear Pat, may I say a word for Mr. Hartman, "Chummy Wife"? I have been tempted just as she has—did not fall but fought the night with myself and won, and Heaven be praised! but I'm glad to see you think I'm glad. I have, like many, had temptations played my way, but I never wanted to tumble, but THIS time it looked so easy and I was sure of it all along. I think I was engaged three years and married twelve without my KNOWING YOU—I KNOW you could not go further—you're very crazy sweet, and I think you're the one who has made you so very gray in such a short time—it ought to prove to you yourself that at a show-down you would be true to your best. I KNOW and I KNOW just what I was getting."

And Geraldine, I know NOW he was right, but his wonderful faith and loving confidence played such a part in my life that I can't help but love him. I was BATTLE WAS TRULY JUST A "LOSS OF BALANCE" pure and simply.

Tell this little woman to join a Mothers' club, because though she may not be a mother, and take up the recreation work. There is so much of that to be done amongst the children and grown-ups, who are in reality nothing but children grown tall. I KNOW whereof I speak; tell her that there is plenty of that to be done and HER "PUP" IS NOW JUST MISDIRECTED ENERGY. I READLY BELIEVE MOST OF OUR MISTAKES—YOUNGSTERS AND GROWN-UPS—COMES FROM NOT KNOWING HOW TO PLAY. REALLY AND TRULY PLAY AND THAT MISDIRECTED ENERGY HAS GOTTEN SOME OF US ON A WOBBLY PATH FOR A BIT.

Is there any way that we pals can get together in a "get-together" and help Kate Jensen in her present trouble? At any rate, I am sorry she seemingly got the worst of it in the automobile argument and hope she will be just fine right straight off.

A CONSTANT READER.

Girl, I'm grateful for that letter. It will do more good than all the snitty preachments in the world. Here's my big love to you and the whole crew. And I'm glad the other chap is out there alone making faces at the moon.

One Who Is Helped
Folks, if this came to you, wouldn't you be glad you were writing the Geraldine column?
Dear Geraldine:
I was reading in your columns today "A Mother's" answer to a letter written by "Twenty-one," and it has helped me so very, very much that I just had to write and thank her.
I too am tired of stepping out but when once you get started on

CANADA DISAPPOINTED

According to reports called from London to Canadian newspapers, Premier Arthur Meighen of Canada announced at the conference of imperial premiers four cardinal points which Canada demanded be given recognition in the relations between the dominion and the imperial government. These points are described thus:

First—That on all questions of foreign policy which more directly concern the British government, such as matters arising in connection with Palestine, Mesopotamia and the Middle East, the governments of the dominions should be kept thoroughly and constantly informed.

Second—That upon all questions of foreign policy, affecting the empire as a whole, the Dominion Government must be consulted.

Third—That the British government should enter into no treaties or special alliance without consultation with, and the advice of, the dominions, and that all such treaties, even when entered into, be subject to the approval of the dominion parliaments.

Fourth—That upon all questions arising as between the United States and Canada, the advice of the Dominion Government must be accepted as final.

The British government, through Mr. Lloyd George, intimated that it was ready to admit the validity of these contentions of the dominions. It invited the several dominions to send representatives to the conference, one of the avowed purposes of which, so it was stated, was to obtain the advice and approval of the dominions of the imperial government's action regarding the Anglo-Japanese agreement. This subject was to be among the first in importance to be considered at the conference. The alliance was to expire on July 12, and renewal would depend upon the stand the dominions took.

Thus the dominion premiers went to London with high expectations. Two of them had decided opinions on the subject of renewal of the alliance with Japan. They were Smuts of South Africa and Meighen of Canada. They were stoutly opposed to renewal.

But the premiers were doomed to disappointment. THE TRIBUNE said the other day that Mr. Lloyd George outwitted them. The Canadian papers join in the use of the term "bamboozled." This does seem more appropriate. For what ensued was really a well laid plan of trickery—"bamboozle." It was not a contest of wits; rather an instance of trickery prevailing over honorable intentions and good faith. Mr. Lloyd George, upon encountering the opposition from Canada and South Africa, decided that he wanted no "consultation" over the Anglo-Japanese alliance. So he got a legal opinion from the Lord Chancellor to the effect that the alliance had another year to run anyway.

Naturally this has led some of the dominion premiers to suspect that the British government does not desire the benefit of consultation with them and of their advice unless the result will serve the schemes of the imperial foreign office. Mr. Meighen is outspoken in his disappointment with the tactics of the British prime minister. He realizes that he was fooled.

It is too early to determine whether the recent incidents in London will have any permanent effect upon the relations between Canada and the British government. But that there has been an awakening of the dominion's conscience is palpable. Self-consciousness has been aroused. Dominion statesmen and publicists believe that Canada should have a foreign policy and that that policy should be utterly opposed to international military alliances of any sort, and that it should have among its chief aims permanent and complete friendship with the United States. In this view London is acting squarely against Canadian interests.

The Japanese emperor has broken, all precedent by traveling through the streets of Tokyo with only a small escort to precede him and a few civil guards to keep order in the streets. Heretofore it has been the custom to have the emperor's route of travel cleared for thirty minutes before his appearance and the streets lined with gendarmes. Silence was commanded throughout the zone of his travel. But the emperor has changed this. He has gone about like a mortal. Unquestionably the antiquated Jilder Statesman opposed the change, and the sign of courage in defying this inner council of bosses is a promise that the habits of the central government of Japan will be further modernized.

THE ALIEN POLL TAX.

In the first few months of 1919, directly after the signing of the armistice, when the war hysteria was still upon the country, and many men were trying to justify their abstention from national service before the armistice, the legislature at Sacramento passed an act imposing a head tax on alien residents of the State. This act was held up by referendum petitions and submitted to the voters at the election of November 2, 1920.

Before the election, on October 18, 1920, THE TRIBUNE called attention to the obvious objections to the proposed act. Among these it mentioned the fact that it would contravene foreign treaty obligations and thereby the federal statutes, that it would prove so expensive to collect that very little added net revenue would accrue to the State, that it would provoke hateful efforts at individual espionage, that it would serve to bar desirable aliens from the State and fail to keep out objectionable aliens, that citizenship could not be improved by the imposition of a petty head tax on prospective applicants for citizenship.

These observations were made despite the fact that Japanese residents, against which a political crusade was then in progress, would be subject to the alien poll tax, and because it applied to all aliens alike and would provoke objections and lawsuits from many governments. But the law was approved and county State officials are now busy giving it effect.

The advocates of the law have shown no response to the moral considerations against the law, but some of them have been duly impressed by the obvious lack of constitutional authority to pass the law. They recognize that the alien poll tax act is illegal and that it will be promptly thrown out by the courts as soon as presented to them. This has brought embarrassment to some of the anti-alien agitators who have been voluble in assuring the federal government that they would never desire to do anything in violation of federal statutes and in contravention of treaties which the federal government had concluded with foreign powers. They see in their situation the probable justification of charges of bad faith against them. They now are trying to keep their skirts from being soiled with the bad faith charge. They claim they did not know the gun was loaded.

Mr. V. S. McClatchy, one of the leaders in the anti-Japanese agitation, has displayed admirable frankness in confessing the mistake of pushing the alien poll tax law. In the issue of the Sacramento Bee, which he publishes, of June 27, 1921, he discussed the error at some length. He even fears that California has jeopardized her right to preserve her lands for American citizens by this act, for he says: "California makes a mistake in clouding her right to preserve her land for citizens with such needless irritants as alien poll taxes, which only embitter subjects of other nations, tens of thousands of whom have benefited California by their labor or enterprise." He adverts to a few facts which should have provoked serious thought prior to November of last year.

The second paragraph of article 1 of the treaty between the United States and Japan reads:

"They [the citizens or subjects of each of the high contracting parties] shall not be compelled, under any pretext whatever, to pay any charges or taxes other or higher than those that are or may be paid by native citizens or subjects."

This treaty provision is the law of the land. California cannot override it with enactments by her legislature. Some of the alien residents are submitting to the tax and paying it, relying upon the courts later to correct the illegality of which they are now the victims. But it is all wrong that the burden of obtaining relief from illegal acts of government should rest upon the victims.

The State should itself move quickly to bring its administration of government into conformity with the federal statutes and the nation's obligations to other powers. State and county officials who are displaying such amazing energy in levying and collecting the alien poll tax should show as much leniency as consistent with their legal obligations until the courts may act.

It has developed that the central soviet government at Moscow approved several times a monthly item of 1,000 rubles for feeding a cat in the Kostroma department, kept for fighting rats. A Bolshevik of the central committee, whose monthly salary was only 13,000 rubles, discovered the item and naturally filed a protest against it. Most all governments feed cats, but they do so in an indirect and obscure manner. But it is to be observed that even ingenious simplicity can get by with the graft for a short time.

A Frenchman has broken the airplane altitude record by attaining a height of 34,768 feet, or over six and one-half miles. He will probably try a loop-the-loop now and lose his life.

NOTES and COMMENT

News from home via the Stockton Record: "The family pup is going to have his life insured. A dog insurance company has been established in Oakland and the canine applicant must submit to a physical examination and answer, by proxy, the usual questions propounded by life insurance companies. If he dies a violent death, indicating murder, suicide or accidental death by poison, the company will kick up the usual fuss about paying over the insurance money and the case will be turned over to the police."

The Richmond Record-Herald turns to lexicography. "The next edition of the dictionary will have to revise its definition of the word 'drive' so as to include 'an insistent, persistent, merciless manly action of human energy having for its purpose the acquisition of public goods or of any money a person may have loose in his pockets, or in the form of a credit balance at the bank.'"

The Chico Enterprise thinks it depends: "Postmaster General Hays plans to have all postoffice buildings marked with suitable signs erected on the exterior. The popularity of the plan will depend upon what the signs say. If the wording, for instance, is to be 'This office closed at 11 p. m.' the signs will be superfluous."

The Richmond Record-Herald takes a shy at a considerably discussed subject: "The old-time girl would say, 'I have nothing to wear,' and then rig out in chemise, pants, two petticoats, a skirt dragging the ground and a waist with the collar climbing to her ears. The girl of today says, 'I have nothing to wear,' and if she is up to date she is right about it."

According to the King City Ruttler, news sometimes has a leaden foot: "Hardly a week passes but we bump into some one who asks, 'Why didn't you have something in the paper about So-and-So?' I thought everybody knew about it. And that's where they made a mistake. The thing you hear may be a long time getting to the editor."

The Woodland Democrat's attention is temporarily diverted from Republican unworthiness to the cherry market: "On the same day that the San Francisco papers announced that San Leandro cherry growers could net five and six cents a pound for their product, consumers were paying forty cents a pound in San Francisco."

The San Bernardino Sun doesn't deary the national colors, but as no roasting cars would appreciate a variety that would not be conducive of noise in the process of ingestion: "Illinois man makes great ad over having developed red, white and blue corn. But we will withhold our praise for the man who brings forth roasting ears that are silent at the table."

From the Medford Mail Tribune, the locale being Oregon: "The state game and fish commission have returned home, and the fish in Rogue river have recovered from the excitement and are breathing through their gills once more."

The baseball reporter may be on the squib desk in the office of the Californian at Bakersfield: "Harvey is still talking. He and Pussfoot Johnson have the distinction of being our most quarrelsome Americans, with Admiral Sims in the position of batter up."

The Stockton Independent sees the lesson: "If there is any lesson, artistic or pugilistic, to be learned from the big bout, it is that fine profiles don't win prize fights. The cave man wallops the artist's model every time."

The Watsonville Pajaronian asks a question: "It is claimed that 'full professors' at the college should get $5000 a year. Are professors supposed to be 'full' under prohibition?"

A somewhat celebrated character heard from through the Marysville Appeal: "The man who didn't use to know the gun was loaded is now holding a lighted match to see how much gas there is in the tank."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Posters made by the Spokane school children feature milk as the "Mountain of Health." "Gateway to Health," etc. Don't be a goose; drink more milk; and "A quart a day keeps the doctor away," are among the legends. It is all good propaganda for the dairies, but one card at least should have called attention to the fact that unless milk is uncontaminated it is one of the most dangerous foods.—Watsonville Register.

Speaking of vacation camps, they have found a new use for schoolhouses in some portions of the country, particularly near schoolhouses in attractive sections. These are being rented to school teachers and others with limited means and opportunities for vacations—the rental to be used in supplying milk to school children in the winter time.—Stockton Record.

Not all the gain in population in southern California is to be attributed to annexation, despite popular belief in northern California. Take the case of San Diego, for instance: A news despatch from there announces the birth of eleven sets of twins for the first half of the year.—Palo Alto Times.

The infant's first real ambition is to get his toe in his mouth. His remaining days are also devoted to the task of making ends meet.—Fresno Republican.

STILL WATERING AT THE SAME OLD TROUGH.

THE GATE TO THE PACIFIC

"The interchange of some of the largest battleships in the American Navy between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets through the Panama canal shows that the big waterway is functioning along the lines laid down for it when the United States undertook the task of constructing a seaway between the two Americas." A bulletin just issued from a Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"When the work of building the canal was undertaken," the bulletin continues, "no one dreamed what a tremendous amount of material would have to be moved to make it a usable waterway such as it is today."

"At that time it was figured that the total excavations for the canal proper would be 101,000,000 cubic yards. But by reason of enlargements and slides the task continued to grow until approximately a quarter of a billion cubic yards of material had to be removed. The railroad from Union Station, Wash., D. C., to the Pennsylvania Terminal, New York, is approximately 228 miles. Imagine instead of the roadbed a canal with vertical banks, 45 feet deep and 124 feet wide—deep and wide enough to accommodate the biggest ship that floats, and connecting the nation's metropolis with the country's capital—and you will have a picture of the amount of material that had to be removed to make the great isthmian highway a completed project."

"Nor does this remarkable comparison include either the excavations by the French in the canal, nor those of the Americans for the auxiliary port works, coaling stations, etc. These were vast enough to widen the imaginary Washington-New York shipway to 154 feet. On the bottom of this ditch could be laid eleven standard American railway tracks."

"One can get another picture of the immensity of the task by reflecting on the fact that the total spoils which had to be removed to unite the seas, divide the continents, and shorten the sea lanes of the world at Panama, were equal in volume to more than one hundred pyramids of the dimensions of Cheops, two such pyramids for every mile of the big waterway from deep water in the Atlantic to deep water in the Pacific."

"The saving effected by ships using the canal has more than justified the hopes of the Government in undertaking its construction. In pre-war days the cost of maintaining a freighter in commission was approximately ten cents per net registered ton per day. Thus, a 10,000-ton steamship cost for maintenance about $1000 a day. Its average speed was around 50 knots a day. On the trip from New York to San Francisco there is a saving of thirty-two days. With such a ship, this extra distance would cost, on the basis of pre-war prices $32,000. On the basis of present prices it would cost about $50,000. The vessel, by using the canal in pre-war days, paying $1.20 per net registered ton, or $12,000, saved its owners or charterers $21,000. On the basis of present-day prices, the saving amounts to nearly $40,000. If, as is now planned, the coastwise shipping using the canal is exempted from the payment of tolls, a 10,000-ton steamer will save $12,000 every time it passes through the canal, in tolls, and at least $38,000 in distance eliminated."

"While it looks rather high to think of a 15,753-ton ship like the Orga paying $18,900 for an eight-hour trip through the canal, yet to choose that route between the East and West coasts of the United States over the Magellan route, would save upward of $32,000 on the trip."

"Another interesting thing about the toll rates at Panama is the comparatively low rates at which cargo moves through the canal. A net registered ton in shipping practice is 100 cubic feet of cargo space. Now, it happens that most cargo doesn't require so much room, and that for some commodities three tons can be put in each net registered ton space. For instance cotton takes much more room than nitrates. A cargo of the latter has moved through the canal for 37 cents a ton, while a cargo of lumber might cost a dollar a ton. The average rate for bulk cargoes ranges around 67 cents a long ton.

"The rate of $1.20 per net registered ton, or $12,000 for a 10,000-ton ship is no higher when viewed from the standpoint of cost of operating the canal than when looked at from the angle of knot-money saved."

"The present income from the canal is barely sufficient to pay the mere costs of operation, with no allowance whatever for depreciation or interest on the investment. As the canal cost $367,000,000, and as the Government has to pay at least 5 per cent for money borrowed to day, it will be seen that interest charges alone would amount to $18,000,000 a year."

"In other words, if Uncle Sam operated his canal on the basis that the railway companies operate their roads, he would have to make a rate of about $3.00 a net registered ton instead of $1.20.

"With the tremendous decline in ocean freight rates in the past two years and the large increase in transcontinental railroad rates, the competition of the canal—using steamship lines for transcontinental freight has hit the railroads a very hard blow. Some tonnage that in pre-war days moved from seaboard to seaboard by rail is now going by sea, with the result that hundreds of freight trains are moving no more."

OHIO'S DOUBLE ARCHAISM.

The Massachusetts legislature has adopted a resolution to take the word "male" out of that section of the State constitution dealing with the qualifications of voters. By the Bay State organic law only male citizens may vote. Though the limitation is inoperative by reason of the nineteenth Federal amendment, the Massachusetts assembly deems it fitting to eliminate it even as a relic. The people of the States will vote on the amendment in 1924.

The incident recalls the fact that according to the Ohio constitution only "white male" citizens of the United States may vote in this State. Here is a double archaism. The Ohio provision is in contradiction of the fifteenth and the nineteenth amendments to the Federal constitution.

It is a feature of the State constitution which, for the sake of courtesy if for no other reason, ought to be corrected. Yet in 1912 when it was proposed by State amendment to erase the old bar against voting by colored men the proposition was voted down by the people of the State by a large majority. It was one of the explicable results of the constitutional election of nine years ago.

For the credit of Massachusetts it is hoped that her electors will show better judgment when they come to vote on this proposal than the electors of Ohio did when they refused to eliminate the word "white" from Article V, Section 1.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ONE CAUSE OF REJOICING.

Gasoline is getting down to a price at which a man whose income is $5000 a year can afford to own a small pleasure car. That this is true is the cause of rejoicing among the vast number of thousands of $2500 a year men who own cars of considerable dignity.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SOME NECESSITIES LOWER.

In the perusal of the specifications of the new tariff bill, the searcher for articles on which the duty is reduced plows through page after page. He passes cattle less than two years old, shirt collars and cuffs, wheel woods, partially manufactured silks and noils, tungsten ores and concentrates, razors and clocks, curtains, iodine, apples, bananas, peanuts and dried beans. He is apparently a hopeless quest. Then his eyes gleam. If the bill passes he will be able to get "ramic hair braids" on which the duty was 40 per cent, by paying only 30. He chirks up. Then he smiles, for—

"Billiard balls, chessmen and poker chips" will have to pay only 10 per cent duty instead of 50. So are the necessities of life and of the household made easier of acquisition by the common people.—Worcester Telegram.

Two Dead; Thirteen Hurt In Week-End Auto Wrecks

Child Is Killed and Mother Dying; Man Victim of Alleged "Joy Ride"

Two are dead, one of whom, according to police, is the victim of a "wild joy ride" which resulted in a collision, and at least two of whom are expected to die and thirteen are in hospitals with injuries—is the toll of many automobile wrecks in the bay region during the week-end. In the same accident, in which a resident of Albany was killed, another man was probably fatally injured.

The dead.

FRANK REPERT, 404 Talbot avenue, Albany.

EMIL BERPOLINO, 3-months-old of Mrs. August Berpolino, of Santa Rosa.

THE INJURED.

MRS. AUGUST BERPOLINO, of Santa Rosa, mother of the dead child; probably fatally injured.

FRANK BRODERICK, address unknown; concussion of the brain and a fractured skull; not expected to live.

MISS ELLIAN TOOMEY of Oakland; face battered in condition is serious.

AUGUST BERPOLINO, Santa Rosa, badly bruised about the head and body and probably injured internally.

MRS. D. WISE, 243 Laguna street, San Francisco; abrasion of the chest and wound under the left shoulder.

MORRIS ROBERTS, 611 Eighteenth avenue, badly bruised about the body.

SUPERVISOR JOHN D. HYNES of San Francisco, badly cut by flying glass.

THOMAS MADIGAN, 1153 Oak street, San Francisco; cuts and bruises.

WILLIAM SARGEANT, same address, cuts and bruises.

ROBERT H. BROWN, same address, badly shaken up.

ALICE CANTOS, 15 years old, 2520 Sacramento street, San Francisco; cuts and bruises.

MARTHA LARBE, 16 years old, 252 Sanchez street, San Francisco; shock, cuts and bruises.

MISS MARY REED, 706 Clay street; fractured rib and bruises about the body.

The smashup in which Rupert was killed, Broderick probably fatally injured, and Mrs. Toomey seriously hurt, occurred shortly before midnight last night on San Pablo avenue in El Cerrito.

The three were riding in an automobile driven by Fred Hansen, 2417 Fifth street, Berkeley. According to the woman, they had been visiting the cafes along San Pablo avenue and had been drinking.

The machine was struck by an auto driven by Commander J. P. Brennan of the Berkeley Post of the American Legion. Brennan said the machine was in front of him and the driver signalled to turn off the road. The machine swerved from the highway, but the driver evidently changed his mind, according to Brennan, and pulled back into the road immediately in the path of Brennan's car.

HITS TELEPHONE POLE.

After the car struck Brennan's machine left the road on the left-hand side and the other machine dashed into a telephone pole, where it was demolished. Hansen, the driver, was injured.

Rupert died at the hospital. Miss Toomey was treated at the Emergency Hospital, where she was taken in an unconscious condition. She sustained cuts about the face and shoulders, having been thrown through the windshield when the car struck the telephone pole.

Brennan's car was damaged and could not be operated following the accident until the steering gear was mended. He assisted in loading the injured people into passing automobiles in which they were brought to Berkeley for medical attention.

BABY IS KILLED.

The Berpolino child was instantly killed and his mother, Mrs. August Berpolino, was probably fatally injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by the child's father, crashed into an unidentified machine near Rodgers butte.

Shortly after the accident the other machine drove off. The injured woman and her husband were taken to the Santa Rosa hospital.

Mrs. Wise was injured early yesterday when the automobile she was driving struck a sand bank on the great highway, opposite the north drive of Golden Gate Park. San Francisco, and was taken to the Central Emergency hospital.

Morris sustained slight injuries when the automobile he was driving struck a sand bank on the great highway, opposite the north drive of Golden Gate Park. San Francisco, and was taken to the Central Emergency hospital.

S. P. SUPERVISOR HUNT.

Supervisor Hynes and his wife, Florence, were cut by flying glass late Saturday when the automobile in which they were riding collided with another machine at Haight and Webster streets, San Francisco. The Hyneses were riding with Samuel S. Oppenheimer and his wife and daughter. The Oppenheimers escaped without injury. Donald W. Day, 1312 Golden Gate avenue, driver of the other car, escaped unhurt.

An automobile collision at Twentieth and Valencia streets, San Francisco, was responsible for minor injuries to two men and the arrest of two others, one for reckless driving, and the other for violation of the prohibition act. The machine of Thomas Brown in which Madigan and Sargeant were riding, collided with a jitney, his driver by Erskine Lillard, 275 San Jose avenue, San Francisco. Madigan, Sargeant and Brown received slight injuries, and James McInerney, passenger of the jitney, residing at 156 Broad street, San Francisco, was charged with reckless driving.

MOTORCYCLE HIT.

Joseph R. Costa, of 18 Montgomery street, San Jose, sustained painful but not serious injuries early yesterday morning when riding a motorcycle on South First street. He was struck by a truck, driven by Joseph Trancalanzo, also of that city. Trancalanzo, according to both witnesses and his own admission, was driving south on First street, near the junction of Willow street, San Jose, where the First street car turn west. A street car being directly in front of him and about to turn, Trancalanzo swung around the left side of the car, thus throwing him on to the left side of First street, where he struck Costa, head-on. Costa's machine was demolished and the automobile also was damaged. The motorcycle driver was thrown clear of the machine, however, saving him from more serious injuries.

GIRL'S HIP FRACTURED.

Mrs. Mary Olive of Gilroy and John W. Reed, her employer, also of Gilroy, sustained painful injuries in an accident on the State highway near Edenville, last night, when a motorcycle and sedan car driven by Reed was struck by an automobile driven by unknown parties.

The automobile failed to stop. Mrs. Olive and Reed were rescued from beneath the wrecked machine by Mr. and Mrs. J. Pagnier of 1328 Burbank street, Alameda, who rushed them to the emergency hospital in this city. City Physician Paul Sanford, who attended the two, found Mrs. Olive to be suffering with a fractured rib and a severe scalp wound. Reed was cut and bruised. Officers are endeavoring to identify the machine which struck Reed's motor.

Miss Contros and Miss Larbee are at the Redwood City hospital recovering from injuries in an automobile accident last night when the machine in which they were riding with two boys plunged over a 200-foot precipice on La Honda mountain near Redwood City. All four of the party were found pinned beneath the wrecked car at the bottom of the ravine. The two boys were Frank Madigan, 15, of 1257 Green which street, San Francisco, and William Caesar, 16, 2725 Jackson street, San Francisco. The boys are being held by the authorities today on a charge of driving a car without a license.

FALLS OVER BANK.

Plunging down a 75-foot embankment in his automobile on the Mt. Hamilton road yesterday, near Smith's Creek, after which he was hurled fifty feet farther by the force of the fall when the car struck the ground, E. P. Menzemer, of Clay street, escaped with a fractured rib and a few minor bruises on his chest.

Menzemer went unaccompanied to the emergency hospital today for treatment. He said that while driving along the Mount Hamilton road he came to a narrow place. The earth wheels of the car slipped off the 45-degree embankment, turned completely over four times and struck the ground seventy-five feet below.

Man Rescued From Ledge in Yosemite

YOSEMITE, Cal., July 18.—One hundred men, divided into three relief parties, rescued a man from a ledge of more than 500 feet of rope in Alpine fashion, today rescued Lieutenant Frederick W. Nichols, Los Angeles, from Granite Ledge, near Sentinel Rock, where he had been marooned for nearly twenty-four hours.

Thirty men, in addition to the National Guard company, effected the rescue. The company worked under the direction of the park rangers.

The ropes were lowered a distance of 500 feet from the top of Sentinel Rock, Nichols being hauled up a few hundred feet at a time by three ropes of men, who risked their lives on the edges of sheer precipices.

Nichols was uninjured, but said he was "ravenously hungry." He lost his way while climbing early yesterday.

MONOPOLY IS GIVEN PARK MEDIC, CLAIM

GIVEN PARK MEDIC, CLAIM

Dr. Maurice Heppner Alleges He Was Denied Drugs With Which To Treat Patient; Answers Not Satisfactory

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Charges of a monopoly of medical service by the governmental national park bureau in the Yosemite National Park, have been made by Dr. Maurice Heppner, Butler building, and presented to the State Medical Society, the State Board of Health and the League for the Conservation of the Public Health, he announced today.

According to Dr. Heppner on June 22, he was called upon by some campers to give medical aid to a woman who had suffered severe burns by the explosion of a kerosene stove. He did so and then went to the hospital in the park for some castor oil and a 1 per cent solution of cocaine to use in treating the woman as he had no materials with him in the park.

At the hospital he says he was refused these things by the man in charge who although introduced to him as a "doctor" said he afterward learned is not a licensed physician. He was told to bring the woman to the hospital where the hospital physicians would treat her. This he was obliged to do as without the needed materials he was unable to care for the patient.

The following day Dr. Heppner says, he complained to Park Superintendent Lewis and was informed that the bureau had to "protect" the park physician in order to get him to stay throughout the year. He told Dr. Heppner that the park hospital is in charge of Dr. Frederick L. Stein who pays $250 a year for the concession under an agreement that no other physicians shall be allowed to practice in the park.

According to Dr. Heppner he learned that even some hotels and resorts had been denied the right to have nurses in attendance for such guests as might require their services. He says he also learned that the government supplies the hospital and all the physician's supplies and that in addition to fees collected from the patients, every permanent dweller in the park, comprising several hundred government employees, are also given a dollar a month that also goes to the concession holder.

Dr. Heppner has filed a written complaint with Park Superintendent Lewis against this situation. Dr. Heppner, a physician of the State Medical Society, has also written to the park superintendent asking for information concerning Dr. Heppner's complaint. The reply evaded all questions asked, it is said, and another letter demanding categorical answers to specific questions has been sent, but so far is unanswered.

Thieves Cut Way Through 2 Stores To Gain Admission To Mission Street Establishment; $2000 in Goods Stolen

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Cutting their way through two adjoining stores in order to reach their objective, burglars early today raided the jewelry establishment of M. H. Hasinger, 2255 Mission street, and escaped with silverware, solid gold articles and trinkets of a total value of $2,000.

No effort was made to blow open the safe, which contained $10,000 worth of diamonds, watches and jewelry.

Taking advantage of the fact that the two adjoining stores were in process of remodeling, the burglars entered one, which was only half completed, using their way into a half-dressing room, which had not yet been opened there being a hole into the partition separating them from the jewelry store proper.

They worked their way from chance of apprehension until they reached the Hasinger establishment where a flashlight is left burning all night.

Helping themselves to solid silver chains, gold buttons and lockets, they also took considerable plated ware. The jewelry was in the bottom of the window showcase and in the counters on the inside.

At Hasinger had been for all of our solid stuff in the safe," Hasinger explained to the police. "We have needed a larger safe, but have put off getting it until the summer."

This accounted for the large amount of loot obtained as ordinarily jewelry establishments put everything in the safe with the exception of the plated and plated articles.

Edwards Designated to Hear 'Zone Law' Protests

Property owners, protesting to the proposition of a new ordinance, designated today a committee to oppose the ordinance. The ordinance was introduced by Councilman Albert B. Carter, Commissioner of public works, and was passed to print. The new pump will be of the centrifugal type.

Charles Edwards, who was denied the right to the Pacific street, and later to the Pacific street, was introduced by Councilman Albert B. Carter, Commissioner of public works, and was passed to print. The new pump will be of the centrifugal type.

Referring the zoning ordinance to the Commission on the subject of the ordinance, the committee designated today a committee to oppose the ordinance. The ordinance was introduced by Councilman Albert B. Carter, Commissioner of public works, and was passed to print. The new pump will be of the centrifugal type.

There is absolutely no need of keeping the council in session for hours each day listening to the protests and the like," the mayor told the council during today's meeting. "That has been done for the past five years and I am getting heartily sick of it. The council will refer a matter of this kind to one of the committees, which will handle the matter. In that way the council will keep constantly informed and know what is going on without any bawling and argument."

Acting City Attorney Leon P. Gray, in his opinion read to the council today, declared that applications for permits to build in the proposed restricted zones, which were held up by council until the ordinance had either been rejected or passed should be issued. He declared that no existing laws would be violated by the issuance of these permits. On the other hand, according to the opinion of the acting city attorney, should the ordinance be passed after the issuance of these permits, the council might be exercising police powers to stop further construction, it desired.

BREIDGE REPORT.

Council took the first real step for the reconstruction and repair of the municipal bridge when an ordinance was introduced today appropriating $145,000 for the purpose of a pump for the dredge. The ordinance was introduced by Councilman Albert B. Carter, Commissioner of public works, and was passed to print. The new pump will be of the centrifugal type.

There is absolutely no need of keeping the council in session for hours each day listening to the protests and the like," the mayor told the council during today's meeting. "That has been done for the past five years and I am getting heartily sick of it. The council will refer a matter of this kind to one of the committees, which will handle the matter. In that way the council will keep constantly informed and know what is going on without any bawling and argument."

Acting City Attorney Leon P. Gray, in his opinion read to the council today, declared that applications for permits to build in the proposed restricted zones, which were held up by council until the ordinance had either been rejected or passed should be issued. He declared that no existing laws would be violated by the issuance of these permits. On the other hand, according to the opinion of the acting city attorney, should the ordinance be passed after the issuance of these permits, the council might be exercising police powers to stop further construction, it desired.

BREIDGE REPORT.

Council took the first real step for the reconstruction and repair of the municipal bridge when an ordinance was introduced today appropriating $145,000 for the purpose of a pump for the dredge. The ordinance was introduced by Councilman Albert B. Carter, Commissioner of public works, and was passed to print. The new pump will be of the centrifugal type.

Charles Edwards, who was denied the right to the Pacific street, and later to the Pacific street, was introduced by Councilman Albert B. Carter, Commissioner of public works, and was passed to print. The new pump will be of the centrifugal type.

Referring the zoning ordinance to the Commission on the subject of the ordinance, the committee designated today a committee to oppose the ordinance. TIDE HURLS BIG
S. P. FERRYBOAT
AGAINST SLIPSDamage Caused Is About
$3500, But No One Was Injured.

Passengers on the big Southern Pacific ferry Enchanted, which was carrying a car and a load of furniture today when the vessel, caught in a swiftly running tide, refused to budge and was hurled against the slips at the Perry building in San Francisco.

The impact was strong enough to cause several passengers standing on the deck waiting to disembark, to sit down suddenly, to throw stock off the shelves in the cigar stand and to cause a general inquiry as to what it was all about. There was no panic, however, and a part of those on board did not even know that there had been an accident.

Forward, a lifeboat was knocked from its davits and two flag masts were snapped off short. Several feet of plating that had been sitting with the ferry on the dock, and which was braced the shock and gave up, in all the company says that the damage would be close to $3500.

Following the accident, the boat discharged its passengers in San Francisco and while the decks were being picked up the odd pieces of plating knocked from the rails, made its way back to Alameda.

Man Would Divorce
Picture Director

Belief that her ability to direct the making of motion pictures also qualified her to direct the affairs of the same wrecked the romance of Dorothy Behan, and A. D. Behan, real estate man, 233 Lester avenue, East Oakland, Behan alleges in his plea for divorce, which was brought up for hearing in Superior court this morning.

They were married on March 22, 1917, and separated on March 11, 1919, when she went to Los Angeles to resume her work in motion pictures. Judge Harris permitted a continuance of the hearing upon declaration of her attorney that she had no authority from her to arrange settlement.

Threat Left in Note
By Girl After Spat

Irene Madero, 18 years old, after unearring with her landlady, left a note which is causing some worry. The girl has been living at the home of Mrs. Maritta Jensen, 784 Ninth street.

Early last night the two had an argument. Without telling anyone, the girl picked up things and left. Mrs. Jensen, before retiring, went into the girl's room and found the note which follows:

"I'm sorry to say I'm going to do something to myself."

The girl is five feet four inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has dark complexion, dark eyes and dark hair, wears a dark coat and skirt, black at and low shoes.

GIRLS GO TO JAIL

LIVINGSTONE JENKS, distinguished Berkeley scholar, who is not afraid of manual labor.

Berkeley Student Will Enter
Columbia Following
Canal Voyage.

BERKELEY, July 18.—Although one may be a distinguished scholar, he need have no qualms about engaging in hard manual labor, according to Livingston Stone Jenks, son of a prominent Berkeley family, and a winner of honors at the University of California. The young Jenks is shipping Wednesday as a member of the crew of the Columbia, a Pacific Mail liner bound for Baltimore, Maryland, via the Panama canal.

On September 15 Jenks will enter Columbia university as the winner of the Schiff fellowship in political science at the University of California, and will study there a year. He was announced as the winner when he graduated in Berkeley last May, receiving his A. B. degree.

Before entering Columbia, Jenks will visit relatives and friends in Washington, New York and Pennsylvania. He is a member of the Alpha Pi Zeta political economy honor society, and of Phi Beta Kappa. Although he is not yet twenty years of age, he was a teacher in a private school in Berkeley during the time he was a student at the university. In addition he was a winner of the L. W. Hellmuth scholarship, and secured his degree at the university in three years.

His mother, Mrs. Livingston Jenks, resides at 2636 Piedmont avenue.

Jane Addams Head
Of Women's Congress

VIENNA, July 18.—Jane Addams of Chicago was unanimously elected president of the International Congress of the Women's Congress at the closing session here yesterday and by common consent the present congress was pronounced the most successful ever held.

Among resolutions adopted at the final meeting was one to secure the co-operation of all branches of the organization in an effort to line up the women of the entire world for non-participation in any activity which would make war possible.

SHOWN IN REPORTFarm Bureau Now in Splendid
Condition, Says County
Advisor.

With a membership roll of 611, the Alameda County Farm Bureau at the close of the fiscal year just past was in better condition than at any other time in its history, according to a summary of the annual report of County Farm Advisor M. A. W. Lee, filed with the board of supervisors.

The report tells in brief what the nature of the organization's activities in showing a popular knowledge of scientific agricultural practice has been during the past year. The bureau is organized in thirteen community centers in the rural district of the county, each of which have adopted programs of work.

The attendance at farm bureau meetings during the past year totaled 7813, the report brings out. Features of the educational program described in the report include the examination and testing of soil on 51 farms.

The work of extermination of rodents and insects has proceeded at a good pace during the year.

The cow testing work during the past year covered the keeping of records on 950 cows for milk production.

Vaccination of poultry for chicken pox was demonstrated on 325 farms and on 234 farms the standards of poultry practice worked out by the agricultural college workers of the University of California were adopted.

A list of the projects in general carried out by the farm bureau includes: Potato spraying, better poultry keeping demonstration, county poultry management demonstration, poultry culling, pruning demonstrations, farm management books, better sires, silo, Boys' Agricultural club, Eden Township Farm Products Show, May Day Pete, rodent control, community program, soil testing department, cereals, electric lights and miscellaneous.

RELIEF PARTY
BACK AT HOME

NOME, July 18.—S. K. Gudmundson, who led the relief expedition to Kolyma for the Siberian soviet government, to the food to the starving population, has returned to Nome.

Gudmundson made his return on the trading boat Belinda from the Kolyma river. He left here on June 24, 1920, arrived at Kolyma August 24, 1920. Gudmundson dealt directly with the soviet government at Kolyma and the expedition arrived in time to save many lives.

"I left Kolyma on August 28," said Gudmundson, "but on September 6 we were forced to turn back on account of the ice. We then went to Jakutsk for protection for the furs we had received from the soviet government for commercial purposes. This trip was 2400 miles across country toward Moscow. The trip was the hardest of my experience and was made with dogs, horses, reindeer and by foot."

The news from Alaska last winter that Gudmundson had been arrested in Siberia is denied. Not only is he returned to him and has more than 2000 valuable fur skins.

Recreation Experts Come
To Oakland Convention

Recreation experts, playground authorities and leaders in physical education from all over the country are gathered in Oakland today awaiting the opening of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Physical Education Association, whose programs will extend throughout the week. Incoming trains during the past two days brought in the delegates, distinguished in their lines of work, from nearly every state in the union, with a special group of representatives from South America.

Local committees headed by Jay B. Nash, director of Oakland playgrounds, have perfected every detail for the entertainment of the important national body of education. Work and play will divide evenly the six days' interest.

A reception and dance in the ballroom of the Municipal Auditorium will summon the convention body in a preliminary session tonight. The physical education workers of California will host the national group, at which welcome will be expressed to the visitors by Dr. A. D. Browne, medical adviser to men, Stanford university, and president of the Western District of the Physical Education Association. The program will be made by Dr. Dudley D. Reed, professor of physical education and hygiene, University of Chicago, and the national president, Miss Elizabeth H. Storer of Mills College, and president of the Bay Cities Physical Education and Recreation Association, will preside as chairman.

USE OF REDWOOD
IN SHINGLES IS
MENACED BY BILLMeasure Designates Only
"Combustible Materials"
For House Roofs.

EUREKA, July 18.—Is the old-fashioned redwood shingle a thing of the past in California?

Local lumbermen believe so today, unless the necessary 35,000 signatures can be obtained to secure a referendum of senate bill 258, known as the "Combustible Materials" bill.

Lumbermen discovered today that under the bill only "combustible materials" previously designated for semi-fireproof buildings, will hereafter be permitted for the roofing of "wooden houses and other wooden structures."

In the opinion of local lumbermen, unless the bill is held up by referendum, ordinary redwood shingles will be banned unless treated with chemicals to make them fireproof. Such a process, they state, would ruin the redwood shingle industry.

Due to the wording of the bill, it is believed that the clause was slipped in as a "joker." The meaning of the bill was interpreted today in a letter received by State Senator H. C. Nelson from R. Justin Miller, attorney for the state immigration and housing commission.

New Letter to Governor
Charges Highway Waste

A new statement by the California State Automobile Association containing the facts and figures of the alleged extravagant highway management and a request for remedial action are before Governor William D. Stephens today in a letter signed by George S. Forrester, president of the association.

The letter reviews the charges that the association has made in the past and cites some new ones. It criticizes the day labor plan used by the commission, and the methods of construction which it says were used until a short time ago. That more than 92 per cent of the 50,000 motorists in Southern California have voted in favor of the position of the automobile clubs is another statement in the communication.

"It is the hope that your complete investigation of these conditions," the letter to Governor Stephens says, "will lead to their correction before tremendous additional waste is added to the burden of highway costs in the expenditure of the remaining highway funds."

To this is added:

"Each and every fact stated is supported by figures and evidence that cannot be controverted, and the record is available for your examination."

HEAVY LOSS CLAIMED.

The main significance of the letter is contained in the part devoted to the charges which, it says, are based on an investigation of highway affairs by competent engineers. This section of the letter says that it has been shown that:

"The persistence in a policy of following the day-labor method of construction totaling an expenditure of over $10,000,000 to June 30, 1920, has resulted in costs far in excess of contract work, averaging between 25 per cent and 30 per cent, and it is estimated that the loss to the State has amounted to between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 by this policy."

"The continuation of building thin, narrow pavements on adverse sub-soil until the latter part of 1920, after repeated failures of the same in 1914, 1915 and 1916, has resulted in an enormous loss of highway funds. This loss is clearly proven by the estimate prepared by the Highway Commission in April, 1921, showing the need for reconstructing 200 miles of thin slab pavements—225 miles of which have been built since 1915 and 30 miles of which has given less than three years service."

"Engineering, overhead and supervision charges incurred by the California Highway Commission exceed the average of seven Western States by 65 per cent, and this excess amounts to more than $2,800,000 on the total amount of work performed to June 30, 1920. The continuation of such extravagance of administration will result in an additional waste of more than $3,800,000 of the $57,000,000 of highway funds available for expenditure during the next four years."

"Although California has a problem in its adobe sub-soils equal in destructive effect to the severe frost action in Eastern States, proper experimental work has been entirely ignored by the Highway Commission up to the present year."

"In spite of its important bearing in determining character and

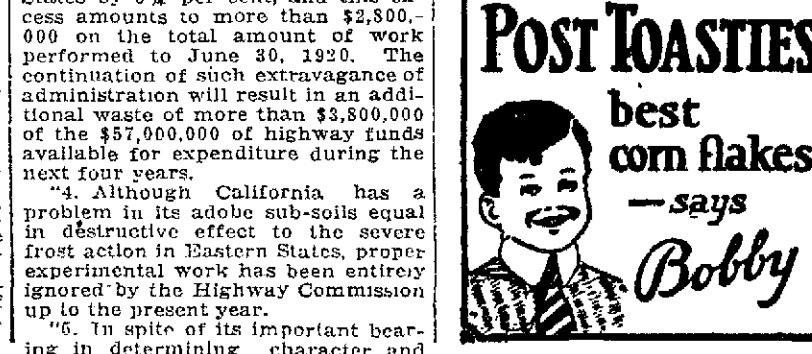

Mexican Revolt Over
Without Shot Fired

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The revolt headed by General Martinez Herrera in the Tampico oil region has apparently broken down without the firing of a shot. Herrera's request that he be permitted to surrender has resulted in an order for the disarming of his followers who are said to number about 150. It is possible that President Obregon, who is at San Luis Potosi, will give instructions from there as to the disposition of the insurgent general.
